Legislation Aimed at Contra Costa Exclusion Authorized

Legislation aimed at the exclusion of Central Contra Costa from the Alameda Contra Costa Transit District was authorized Tuesday night by the district's board of directors.

The board adopted a report by the district's committee on program planning, headed by board president Robert Barber, suggesting that Alameda and Contra Costa Legislators be asked to introduce the necessary changes in the transit district law permitting the exclusion.

IN ANOTHER recommendation, the district will study means of liberalizing clauses in the law pertaining to exclusion of certain unincorporated areas seeking to withdraw from the district.

Although the report did not give the specific details on how Central Contra Costa County would be excluded or what areas of the district would be served by the district, the adoption of the report opened the door for John Worthington, general manager, to discuss with legislators the necessary steps to effect changes in the present transit district law.

The legislature will convene in Sacramento next month for its regular session.

Senator George Miller, (D), Martinez, and Assemblyman Jerome Waldie, (D), Antioch, will be notified of the proposed legislation and changes in the law by transit district officials.

Worthington commented that the district would return to the taxpayers next September or October with a revised version of the $16.9 million bond proposal which failed at the general elections.

WORTHINGTON pointed out that the measure, which needs a two thirds majority to pass, failed in Oakland by only six percent while in Contra Costa it failed by 25 percent.

Alan Bingham, information officer of the district, stated that under consideration of Worthington and the staff at meetings with legislators would be the means of introducing an election to a smaller service area.

Bingham noted that this area would be one west of the tunnel, but provisions would be made which would allow annexation to the service area to communities wishing to join the district.

BEFORE THE legislators are asked to present the revised legislation in Sacramento, they will be asked to report back to the district's directors.

In other action, the transit district board collected payment of Contra Costa taxes to the district.

The district entered an agreement with Contra Costa tax collectors that the district would reimburse taxes paid by excluded areas to individuals.

ONE CONTRA COSTA resident made inquiry on how to have tax refunded when his area will be excluded from the district.

His home is assessed at $3000 and he had a $1000 veteran's exemption. His payment: 25 cents for the two years that he has been in the district. His comment: "the hell with it."

The board authorized that the district's headquarters be moved from its present location in the Claremont Hotel to the Seventh Floor of the Plaza Building at 15th and San Pablo in downtown Oakland.

REASON FOR the move, Bingham noted, was to centralize the district's offices and to provide more adequate working facilities.

The move will be accomplished sometime in mid-January.

'Man of Year' Committee Now Studying Candidates

Deliberations are now under way to decide who will be the Orinda Man of the Year.

The Sun's Man of the Year Committee, under the chairmanship of Dr. Ralph Hall with Arthur Flint and Mrs. Stanley Allen, has been busy studying suggestions for the annual outstanding citizen award.

If you have a suggestion to make to the committee, send it to any of the committee members or to The Sun, P.O. Box 147, Orinda.

The man of the year will be honored by The Sun and other civic groups when he is presented The Sun's Man of the Year certificate.

Women's Club 'Adopts' Miramonte Girls

The Orinda Woman's Club has adopted a group of Miramonte Sophomore girls as a youth project in order to foster good citizenship through community service. Many times the only opportunity local clubs have to sponsor good citizenship and to encourage young people to take an active part in their communities is by example.

The Orinda Woman's Club has a long record of community service, but is looking forward to this additional opportunity of suggesting community service projects to these young women.

MOST RECENTLY on the Community Service level the Orinda Woman's Club has sponsored a drive for two resuscitators now available at the Orinda firehouse, purchased a record stack and records for the new Orinda Library, is giving a tree and planter to help in the beautification plans for the Crossroads, and has donated a scholarship fund for Miramonte High School.

In addition to these local efforts the club collects and saves material for the Napa State Hospital, helps maintain a "Visiting the Aged" program, fills Thanksgiving and Christmas baskets with food and toys for worthy families, and this year is helping to dress dolls for the Christmas Bureau in Walnut Creek.

With this new alliance with the Miramonte High School youth group, the Orinda Woman's Club hopes to see even more community service projects undertaken and completed.

MRS. CLIFFORD Campbell, vice president of the Orinda Woman's Club will act as liason between the girls and the Women's Club. Mrs. Frank Shirey and Mrs. Ted Schilling are the adult advisors of the girls and will attend all their meetings. According to Mrs. Schilling there are 21 charter members who are named the Debs and are already planning to participate in the Orinda tree-planting ceremony in January.

Charter members are Dianne Hallsted, president; Gerie Ann Hughes, vice president; Carol Pederson, secretary; Linda Shirey, corresponding secretary; Pricilla Devin, treasurer; Pat Crawford, historian; Sue Campbell, Sharon Croci, Gretchen Diercks, Louise Diercks, Mary Moorehead, Carolyn Neb, Anne Laurenson, Pam Oakes, Barbara Palatino, Caty Prince, Sue Schilling, Ellen Van Voorhis, and Pam Dermit.

Ron Fowler Ends Combat Training

Army Recruit Ronald D. Fowler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Madison Fowler, 47 Camino Encinas, Orinda, recently completed eight weeks of basic combat training at Fort Riley, Kan.

The 23-year-old soldier was graduated from Acalanes High School in 1953.

Just a Bit Warm Isn't It Friend?

The weather remained normal for mid-September this past week in Orinda. With temperatures straining the 80 degree mark on the mercury stick residents were shocked to say the least.

Jan. 22 Hearing Set for Rezone

A public hearing will be held on January 22 by the County Board of Supervisors on a proposed rezoning of the 10-acre Orinda Pine Grove to allow 200 apartment units.

It is opposed by the Orinda Association and the Orinda Chamber of Commerce. Proponent is the Associated Investment Company of Oakland.

The County Planning Commission has unanimously recommended denial of the application.

One and two-bedroom units would rent for $300 to $500 per month.

If the zoning were changed from Administrative Office District to Multiple Family Residential, a four-story building would be possible.

'Brave' Boys Threaten One 16 Year-Old

Two Miramonte High School boys are in custody at the County Juvenile Hall, and are being questioned about their possible connection with an Orinda teen gang which recently painted Nazi swastika symbols on the pavement of Moraga Highway and on the wall of the school.

One of the boys, 17, told officers he is interested in the concepts of Hitlerism and has read histories on Germany and studied German language in school.

He and his companion, 16, admitted that they threatened Terry Scheffer, 16, of 10 Don Gabriel Way, Orinda, last Saturday night, while he was working in a real estate office on Moraga Highway.

Orinda Ready for Planting Day

Civic Groups to Plant Thousands of Seedlings

Orindans will take part in an All-Community Planting Day January 13, sponsored by the Orinda Beautification Committee and the Planning Committee of the Orinda Association.

"Mass planting of terraces of the Freeway will help prevent erosion and relieve the denuded appearance of the hillside and restore some some of the lost natural beauty of the area," said Mrs. Paul Pollaczek, beautification committee chairman.

THE AREA to be planted extends from the state cloverleaf to El Toyonal, and includes Orinda Highway.

A plan is being drawn by William Penn Mott, supervisor of the Oakland Park Department; Ray Thayer, county landscape architect; Jim Hupp, director of California Roadside Council, and Dr. Ralph Hall, forest entomologist with the U. S. Forestry Service.

The Junior Chamber of Commerce, with John Miller as chairman, will be in charge of the actual planting, assisted by Dr. Hall.

On hand to supervise and advise will be several Orinda foresters, tree farm experts and conservation and park authorities.

Donald D. Chamberlin, assistant public works director, will see that traffic control protects groups working on the left side of the freeway.

EXPLORER SCOUTS will help, and contribute some of their own seedlings.

Eighth grade Girl Scouts and high school members of church organizations will assist.

Invited to participate is the Orinda Fire Department, of which William Koch is already an experienced seedling-planter. He planted the pine trees now flourishing on the Community Church slope.

Mrs. Fred Rust, CL 4-3467, will be coordinator for Girl Scouts. Dr. Hall will direct Boy Scouts.

As several thousand seedlings have already arrived, Bob Waschmirth of Moraga Valley Nursery has offered to heel them in until planting day.

Seedlings have been contributed by the Orinda Association, Chamber of Commerce and Rotary Club. Donated trees include several varities of pine, Sierra redwood, fir, eucalyptus, Chinese pistache, liquid amber and goldenrain.

THE LATTER three will be planted where there is water seepage or at key spots along the highway where they can be watered by the fire department.

The East Bay Municipal Utility District is sending 50 12-inch pine seedlings.

Each group will be assigned a location by number, where seedlings will be waiting for them on the morning of the planting day.

ORINDA'S FOUR garden clubs, the AAUW, and the Orinda Women's Club will serve hot coffee, hot chocolate, sandwiches and doughnuts.

Planting time will be from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m.

Mrs. A. P. Reck, who represents Hilltop Garden Club on the beautification committee, will be refreshment coordinator. Assisting her will be the Mmes. Clinton Scarich, Robert Patmont and Pollaczek.

Three food stations will be set up. Tom Sibary of the Orinda Planning Committee will be grounds chairman.

A meeting of those working on the project and others who wish to participate will be held January 6 at 8 p.m. at Orinda School auditorium. Instructions on planting will be given.

"All we need now is rain," stated William Penn Mott. "For the greatest success in a project of this kind, where maintenance is impractical, the ground should be just the right degree of dampness."

"MAYBE we should hire a god, old-fashioned rainmaker," said Dr. Hall, "I think the beautification committee is seriously thinking of it."

Contract Let For Snow Ct. Rebuilding

A contract for the reconstruction of Snow Court in Orinda was awarded today by the Board of Supervisors to Independent Construction Company which submitted a bid of $9711, the lowest of six bids received.

The engineer's estimate for the cost of the work was $10,136.

In accordance with the county's continuing program of improving substandard streets, the entire 600-foot length of Snow Court, which lies westerly of Lost Valley Drive, will be rebuilt.

The existing pavement section is to be removed and replaced with a total thickness of one foot of roadbase consisting of 6 inches of imported subbase and 6 inches of crushed rock.

The riding surface will be 1½ inch layer of plant-mixed surfacing. In addition to the road work, drainage will be improved by the installation of two culverts, a drop inlet and several hundred feet of concrete ditch lining.

The contractor has been allowed 30 working days to complete the contract and will probably finish the work by February 5 barring delays caused by inclement weather.

Traffic will be permitted to pass through the construction at all times with as little inconvenience and delay as possible.

New Library Makes More Orinda Book Readers

By BILL HINES

Only 8500 books were circulated from the former library located in Orinda Community Church during the month ended December 17, 1957.

In its first month of operation, ending on the same date, the new Orinda Library has circulated over 12,000 books, according to Mrs. Sara K. Mannowsky, librarian.

SHE REPORTED that the new library has had 335 new borrowers since it opened a month ago, and assisted 600 persons with references, not including telephone assistance.

A recent story in The Sun informing library patrons that they could no longer renew books by telephone, resulted in eliminating between 75 and 100 phone calls a day, she said.

Morning hours, when librarians have more time, are the best period to get help from them on references, Mrs. Malinowsky declared.

Library hours are from 2 p.m. to 9 p.m. every day except Saturday, when hours are from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m., and Sunday, when the library is closed.

ORINDA READING habits follow pretty closely those of the nation as far as best sellers are concerned, the librarian said.

Two Russian writers lead the fiction list in Orinda, with the controversial "Lolita" by Nabokov in first place, with a waiting list of 45; in place position is "Dr. Zhivago" by Pasternak.

3 Persons Hurt In Two Accidents Wednesday Eve

Two accidents late Wednesday afternoon sent three persons to doctors for treatment, according to the California Highway Patrol.

Injured at the intersection of Monument Boulevard and Contra Costa Highway at 4:45 p.m. was Regina Brown, 3, a passenger in the car of her mother, Tomina Brown, of Richmond.

MRS. BROWN was struck from the rear by the truck and trailer of Tyron Schulz, 19 of Concord, according to the patrol, when she stopped for an amber signal on Contra Costa Highway in preparation for a left turn.

Schulz was cited for following too closely and Mrs. Brown was cited for driving with an instruction permit without a licensed driver in the car, the report said.

Mrs. Brown stated she pulled into the left turn lane and stopped when the signal changed from green to amber. Schulz, she said, did not stop in time and hit the rear of her car.

ONE HOUR LATER, on Mt. Diablo Boulevard, just west of Acalanes Avenue, James F. Brady of San Francisco and Harold R. Anderson of Concord were injured.

Cited for excessive speed by the patrol was Richard Haymam, 17, 1064 Carol Lane, Lafayette, according to investigation officers.

Haymam, according to the report, slammed into a car driven by Paul Richey, 108 Vern Court, Pleasant Hill, who in turn slammed into Anderson's car.

Highway patrol officers estimated that Haymam was going 40 miles per hour in a 35 mile per hour zone.

"Our cooperative enforcement efforts have brought favorable results in the past," Munro declared. "Our agents will again work closely with the patrol in a determined campaign to control the excessive drinking situation on and off the highways.

"We are asking all military and local police agencies to join us in this effort during the holidays and we are looking forward to a broader and more effective program," Caldwell said. "We are also conducting an extensive public information program which we hope will reach every user of our streets and highways between now and Christmas Eve."

Detective Sues Mrs. Handlery For 'Snoop' Fees

Superior Judge Thomas J. Ledwich has ordered private detective William Pennington to file what has been termed a "top secret" bill of particulars in the detective's law suit to claim $11,000 in alleged fees, from Mrs. Paul R. Handlery of Orinda.

The fees, Pennington claims, are due as a result of his investigations in a divorce suit filed by Mrs. Handlery against her husband last April.

Mrs. Handlery's attorney moved that the bill of particulars be sealed, but Ledwich denied the motion.

The bill of particulars might reveal not only what Pennington did to earn his fee, but also what he saw, said Attorneys Joseph Young and John J. Dunn.

Pennington, through his attorney Edward F. Peck, said that Mrs. Handlery used his detective services and then reconciled with her husband.

Mrs. Handlery according to reports, also brought an action to recover the cost of the investigations against her husband, but that was dismissed.

The Handlery home is at 13 Virginia Drive, Orinda.

Pool Project at Miramonte Gets Board Attention

An Orinda delegation seeking Acalanes School District board aid in a community-district built swimming pool project on Miramonte High School campus, attended the board meeting last week.

The Orindans were represented by James Dana, Mrs. Millie Bowles and Mrs. Katie Flint.

Board members intimated that "with strong community support" which could raise about half of the project's cost, a pool might be possible by the summer of 1959.

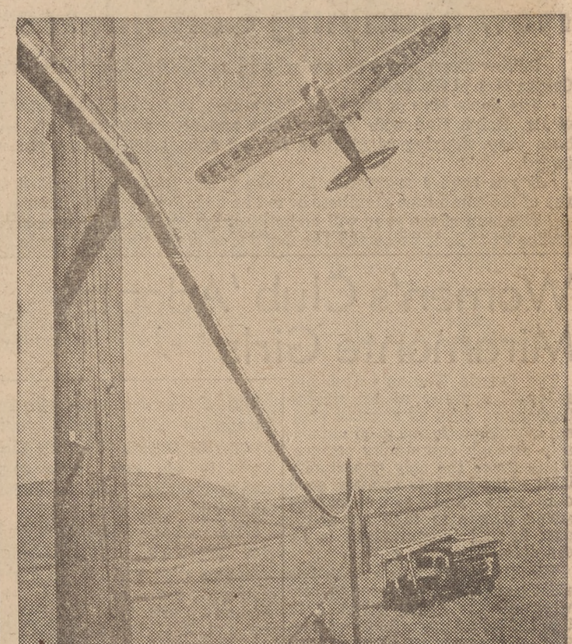
WHAT'S DOING
Howard Greenhalgh, your Telephone Manager in Orinda



Wherever your voice goes, telephone patrols keep a careful watch over the lines that carry your calls. And here you see a sky patrol in action. Every day the pilot or his partner check 350 miles of cable, most of it underground. They're on the lookout for landslides or construction work that could cause trouble. By using a loudspeaker on the plane, or by dropping notes, they can warn anyone working near a hidden cable. Time and again, cable patrols have headed off costly damage. And they've helped make your telephone service more dependable than ever.

Remember our contest to find out about memorable long distance calls? Well, lots of people wrote in and told about their interesting experiences with long distance. For instance, one of the two winning letters was from Mrs. D. D. Bracken, 3499 Bryant Street, Palo Alto (above with Telephone Manager R. R. Maloney): "Several years ago my husband and I drove to Fort Wayne to visit our daughter who was living in the suburbs there. Then we lived closer to her but still about 5 hours away. When we got home, we were very tired ... About 2 a.m. a long distance call came from our daughter, hysterically telling us that they couldn't find "Bobbie," their 2-year-old son. As I tearfully tried to give her hope, my husband went to the car. He fairly flew back with "Bobbie" in his arms. He had found the little fellow hidden on the floor in the rear seat of the car. Bobbie sleepily cooed "Mommie, Mommie," into the phone and my daughter just about fainted at the other end of the line. How he ever managed to get into the car, we'll never understand!"

United Bay Area Crusade Lays Plans for New Drive

The United Bay Area Crusade, struggling now to get in the last contributions to a campaign which is struggling to fall seriously short of its 1958 goal, must reorganize at once and have its 1959 solicitation actually under way in some divisions by March 1 if it is to achieve solvency, it was announced.

This assertion is contained in a statement by Samuel B. Stewart, chairman of the five-county federation's board of governors. The statement has received approval of the UBAC Executive Committee and is now being considered by Crusade organizations in the counties as rapidly as their boards can meet to discuss it.

DOGGED EFFORT by hundreds of volunteers is slowly bringing in late collections in the 1958 drive, and donors not yet reached are urged to send in their contributions, but the forecast is that at best the campaign will close at 86 per cent of its goal, and with a total of about $10,120,000. Last year the Crusade raised raised $10,330,000. Economic climate and competition of the spirited elections are thought to have adversely affected the drive.

Stewart's statement said that radical surgery on the structure of UBAC would be foolhardy; that "the logical course is to maintain the pattern we now have, and to strengthen its weak parts." A campaign which raises more than $10,000,000 in a single annual drive cannot be termed a failure, he added.

He proposed a five-point program which would, in effect, enlist the Bay Area in a virtually continuous campaign effort throughout 1959 and call upon business and labor to provide 300 loaned executives to help staff the drive. The program would begin the Crusade's annual Bay Area meeting on January 16 as the campaign kickoff event (normally held in late September).

His proposal:

1. ESTABLISH THE 1959 fund drive as the top priority in every agency drawing funds from the Crusade. (There has been criticism within the Crusade that some of its agencies do not work actively in the fund drive, or that they give priority to their own supplemental campaigns.) Stewart asked that every county Crusade and every agency adopt a board resolution endorsing the Crusade priority.

2. Shelve all organizational changes or jurisdictional disputes which could interfere with campaign success.

3. Make the Bay Area Campaign chairmanship for 1959 the most important job in the Crusade, and fill it by December 31 with the chief executive of a large corporation or with a younger man of recognized ability and connections.

4. Name a committee at once to set the goal for the 1959 drive before March 1.

5. Constitute the UBAC Executive Committee as the Campaign Committee of 1959, and establish a Sponsors' Committee of 100 corporation and labor leaders. This committee would be asked to study adequacy of gifts and gift resources, solicit large donors, and recruit 300 "loaned executives" to conduct the campaign in 2000 large Bay Area firms.

STEWART SAID his plan is the desirable alternative to several other plans which have been considered. Among these he discussed what he said was a suggestion by some that the Bay-wide campaign be abandoned, to "let each county fund organization struggle with its own problem."

"On this course," he said, "let us remember our experiences of a few short years ago. . . . A return to separate county campaigns would create enormous confusion among donors, jeopardize cooperation in firm payroll deduction systems, disrupt publicity media, and engender competitive multiple solicitations of former years on a more intensive scale than ever before."

Stewart pointed out that in 1952, when the counties campaigned separately, they raised $8,677,434. This year, fourth since the counties of Alameda, Contra Costa, Marin, San Francisco and San Mateo began their combined drive, they will raise in excess of $10,000,000.

Brown Given Until Monday To 'Get More Particulars'

Sheriff Harry A. Brown has until Monday to come up with some good reasons why the November 4 General Election Ballot for sheriff should be recounted.

This was the decision of Superior Judge Hugh H. Donovan in Martinez Wednesday morning when he granted Walter F. Young, sheriff-elect, a demurrer and gave Brown five calendar days in which to amend his original complaint "so that it will present more specific particulars."

THE OFFICIAL canvass of the county ballot by the county elections office shows that Young edged out Brown by 1421 votes.

In other action, Judge Donovan denied a motion bly Young that the entire matter of a recount be dismissed.

Donovan stated, in his eight page decision, that he found the facts as presented by Brown to be insufficient for grounds to call a recount.

HE SAID the defeated candidate failed to cite enough particulars that if such errors had occurred they would have affected the outcome of the election.

The judge opined:

"It would seem unreasonable that a single elector without any particular and specific information on which to base his complaint could impose on the superior court the burden of recounting the entire vote case, involving 136,141 votes cast for sheriff, upon the general chargs that the election was irregular and erroneous.

Nejedly Appeals Change of Venue Granted to Kyle

District attorney-elect John A. Nejedly has filed an appeal to a change of venue granted to Rev. C. F. Kyle of North Richmond by Concord Municipal Court Judge John Garaventa.

Mr. Kyle claims that Nejedly owes him $570 in back wages because of his efforts on behalf of Nejedly in the election for district attorney last June.

THE CHANGE of venue, which would permit the audit to be heard out of Contra Costa County, was granted by Garaventa after Kyle argued that it should be heard elsewhere than in Contra Costa.

Nejedly filed appeal after the granting of the change of venue to the appellate division of the Contra Costa County Superior Court.

It will now be reviewed by the three judges presiding on the appellate bench of the county court.

Mr. Kyle slaims that Nejedly owes him wages at $15 per day for 38 working days preceding the June 3 election for district attorney.

NEJEDLY claims that he informed Mr. Kyle that he did not pay campaign workers because he did not have sufficient funds to do so.

Nejedly stated that Kyle understood this, but went ahead anyhow.

Council, Nejedly Talk 'Bingo'

District Attorney-elect John Nejedly has clarified earlier statements on his intentions—and attitude towards legalized bingo games and raffles and said his position has been misunderstood by Bay Area newspapers and especially by the Council of Churches of Central Contra Costa County.

He said this week that he does not intend on his own initiative to introduce legislation next year to make bingo and raffles legal, and he only stated earlier that he is ready to do so if there is sufficient public demand.

The Church Council sent him a strong letter urging him to ". . . . reconsider your legislative proposal and not introduce this detrimental legislation."

"THE CONTROVERSY arose from what Nejedly allegedly said after a conference in November with the Education Committee of the County Grand Jury.

He allegedly said that "I am prepared" to initiate legislation to legalize bingo and raffles, with the stipulation that they be restricted to charit ble or church organizations for non-profit purposes.

REV. JAMES Higgins of the Church Council Committee, told The Sun this week that they now recognize that Nejedly may have been misinterpreted, but he added that the stand taken by the council on bingo, raffles and other gambling in general, still stands.

The letter reads as follows:

"The Social Action and Education Committee representing 28 local churches has been urged by the council to contact you concerning your statement which appeared in the Oakland Tribune, November 25, regarding bingo and raffles in religious, charitable and non-profit institutions.

"First of all we wish to commend heartily your affirmation to enforce the law as it now stands.

"This has not been done in the past and the law prohibiting bingo and raffles on behalf of these institutions has been grossly abused. We do appreciate your firm stand here.

"The primary reason this has become acceptable to many people and is now an issue is attributable to the laxity of proper enforcement of the existing law in the past.

"REGARDING your stated intent to introduce legislation to the 1959 legislature, advocating legalization of bingo games and raffles for these non-profit institutions, we shall have to take issue.

"We do this for several reasons. Gambling in any form has always been held morally degrading by the Protestant Church.

"Games of chance, based on the principle of getting something for nothing, or the attempt to gain that for which one has neither attempted productive work nor offered anything in exchange, tend to exploit the inner weaknesses of people. We are morally responsible at this point.

"Games of chance tend to promote dishonesty in their use so as to tip the balance of winnings to the operator.

"THE ENFORCEMENT or control problem of such a proposed law is an extremely difficult type of law to enforce.

"Along with these problems there is also the increase in crime rate per capita which is a by-product of the gambling atmosphere.

"In light of these difficulties we definitely believe this to be a moral and social issue of great implication.

"For should games of chance such as bingo and raffles be legalized, this becomes the opening wedge for more extreme froms of gambling in the future.

"Further, we feel that bingo and raffles are not generally acceptable to the protestant public as a means of raising funds. In fact this wars against the highest principles of stewardship and charitable giving out of a felt church or community need.

"Therefore in light of these and other related facets of this problem, we of the Council of Churches of Central Contra Costa County do strongly urge you, District Attorney-elect, to reconsider your legislative proposal and not introduce this detrimenal legislation."

Vital Necessity of Open Burning Ban Told by Smog Boss Ben Linsky

"The purpose of these public hearings," stated Control Officer Benjamin Linsky recently to the Board of Directors of the 6-county Bay Area Poluution Control District, "is to lay a foundation of fact and judgment for a structure of regulations that can be accepted as community standards and set down in law to help clear the air."

The necessity for regulations as the initial step in curing smog conditions in the Bay Area was also emphasized to the board by John Maga, chief of the Bureau of Air Sanitation for the State Department of Public Health.

HE POINTED out that the district's regulation No. 1, which banned open burning, is "only the first step in a program needed to cope with air pollution problems. It is logical and appropriate to consider the need for regulations of emissions from commercial and municipal incinerators, combustion and industrial processes at this time."

Maga further declared that ". . . more information is available to the board now than was available to any one other community in this state and probably in the country when it enacted its first industrial and incinerator regulations."

As in previous public hearings, Linsky explained that the district's law and program are keyed to the establishment of performance standards, and not the designation of specific equipment to be used by various businesses.

THE INDIVIDUAL owner or operator of a business is left free to choose his own methods and machinery to attain acceptable performance standards. These standards are limitations on the emission of air pollutants that are set by the district only after public hearings and careful technical studies," he said.

It was not the expectation of the district, Linsky said, that the establishment of Regulation No. 1 against open burning could possibly eliminate all smog in the Bay Area. But this and future regulations, set up one-by-one, are directed toward that achievement.

Items of prime interest in any air pollution control program, according to the 50-page technical report prepared by the district's technical staff, are the capital and operating costs of equipment and process changes to meet air pollution control regulations.

"FOR THIS REASON several specific operations operations typical of some Bay Area industries were studied, and air pollution control methods, equipment, and costs were estimated. These included incinerator, gray iron cupola, open hearth steel plant, and chemical drying operations," he continued.

"It is believed by the district staff that the costs of full, effective control measures are compatible with the economics of business and industry in the Bay Area (with the possible exception of a few marginal operations) and that the somewhat greater cost of fully effective control equipment is worth the price, Linsky noted.

In discussing the complexity and difficulty of assessing the cost of air pollution control, Linsky also pointed out the even more elusive costs of no control: the reductions of property values near air pollution sources, loss of tourist trade, direct damage to agricultural and other types of vegetation, and the wide variety of material soiled, deteriorated and directly damaged by air pollutants. The impossibility of putting a price on eye irritation is obvious, too, he commented.

"IT IS HOPED," continued Linsky, "that everyone will recognize that the Bay Area has a different situation and different needs—even the law that established this district is different from any other in the world—and that the Bay Area Air Pollution Control District will develop solutions that are designed to meet those needs of the Bay Area and its people, not those of some other place.

"Each citizen at home, at work, and in the community can help reduce air pollutants by learning about them, and then making the small and large decisions in the right way."

Audubon Society's Annual Bird Count is Sunday

The Mt. Diablo Audubon Society will again participate in the annual bird count conducted every year during Christmas week by the Audubon Societies throughout the United States.

The group will meet at the Monument at 7 a.m. Sunday.

There the party will break up into four groups under the direction of experienced "birders."

Each party will take a designated area and endeavor to get an accurate count of the number of species in its territory and the number of birds in each flock.

The territory covered will be about 15 miles in radius—from Antioch to the north, Briones Hills west of the college, Tice Valley and the southeast slope of Mt. Diablo.

At 5:30 p.m. the entire group will meet at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Beverly Wilder, 1304 Alma Avenue, Walnut Creek, for a "recapitulation."

These figures gathered by the Audubon societies are used by fish and game, park and wildlife services and other conservation commissions throughout the country.

For further information regarding the "count" persons may call chairman Beverly Wilder.

Mild Weather Causes Waterfowl Troubles in State Control Areas

Continued unseasonably mild weather throughout California has adversely affected waterfowl hunting, Department of Fish and Game managers report.

Seth Gordon, department director, said that a complete census of this year's waterfowl population in California revealed large numbers of birds present—at least up to the seasonal average of past years—but that "bluebird" weather has kept them sitting tight.

A change in the weather would get the birds moving, he said, and should give sportsmen a chance for better bags during the final month of the general waterfowl season.

The end of pheasant season saw a pickup in hunter use of several state-operated waterfowl management areas. For the season through December 7, the statewide average bag is 3.2 birds per hunter.

Gordon said that no feeding is being done on waterfowl management areas, and only the natural grain crops, which the department has regularly produced to minimize depredation on nearby farm lands, are available there. Even this natural feed, he explained, now has been consumed on most of these areas.

Reports from the Gray Lodge Waterfowl Management Area for the December 3-7 period showed a 5.3 average per hunter and from the Sutter Wildlife Refuge a 5.9 average to lead the public shooting areas.

Christmas Scene Illuminated At Cemetery

A beautifully illuminated Christmas scene has again been developed for public viewing at the Mountain View Cemetery, according to trustees of the nonprofit organization.

The special Christmas scene, which includes many colorfully lighted Yuletide displays, is an annual community service of Mountain View. It is open to the public each evening from 5 until 10 p.m. through December 28 and can be seen from your car within a very few minutes.

Guiding you through the entrance gates, at the north end of Piedmont Avenue, in Oakland, is an 8-foot illuminated Star of Bethlehem.

Tauscher Quits As Diablo Pro

Norman Tauscher has resigned as pro of the Diablo Country Club.

The long time golf professional turned over a letter of resignation to the club's board of directors stating that he would be leaving after the first of the year.

Tauscher has been at Diablo for the past five years. Reportedly, directors of the club are already digging around for a pro to take Tauscher's slot at the club.

Hockey League Opens Season At WC Ice Rink

The East Bay Junior Ice Hockey League opened its inter-league play Monday at the Walnut Creek Ice Rink with an excited 150 fans on hand to help cheer the boys on.

The first game was played by the Bears and Wolves ending in a 2-2 tie.

Goals for the Bears were scored by Bobby Peacock and two goals for the Wolves were made by Larry Warner.

The next two games will be played tomorrow at 5 and 6 p.m.

Admission is free.

Any boy interested in the league is asked to contact any league official at the rink on Saturday mornings when practice sessions take place.

There are 76 boys now participating, with openings for any interested boy.

No skating experience is necessary and skates are furnished by the league.

'Dimes' Leaders Appointed; Drive To Start Soon

Appointment of area and local March of Dimes chairmen in 20 Contra Costa communities was announced today by J. Nolan Stockton, County Chairman for the 1959 fund-raising drive.

The drive will open January 2 and run through February 3.

Stockton praised the work already done by March of Dimes volunteers.

He stated, "Eighteen new polio victims have been reported this year in Contra Costa County. These are in addition to our backlog of many rehabilitative surgery cases and others who have been under March of Dimes care for years forcing us to help on National Headquarters for financial assistance in paying our bills.

"This situation must be rectified. Once our citizens fully recognize March of Dimes needs, I know they will respond and make their county chapter self-sustaining."

In addition to continuing the polio program, the 1959 March of Dimes will wage war on arthritis and birth defects, with the national set at $65,000,000.

In the eastern area Joseph DeRosa, Postmaster of Concord, is in charge.

Diablo Country Club to Give Kids Party Sunday

The Diablo Country Club's annual Christmas party is scheduled for Sunday at 2:30 p.m.

Santa Claus will arrive at 3:30 p.m. to give out presents to all children.

At 5 p.m. a buffet will be served which will feature hot dogs, hamburgers, spaghetti, salad, desserts and favors.

Mr. and Mrs. Phil Kane are chairmen. Committee members are Messrs. and Mesdames James Crane, R. P. Burns, J. A. Spongberg, Cooper and Ken Cannon.

There will be entertainment and Captain Fortune will "zero" in from 2:30 to 3:30 p.m.

Sunday is also the date of the general meeting and election of officers, and on that day names of the 1959 president, officers and the board of directors will be announced.

Dave Long Gets 'Cold Shoulder' On SF Field Trip

David W. Long of Lafayette is one of 27 California State Polytechnic College air conditioning and refrigeration engineering majors back on the home campus after receiving the "cool shoulder" on a 500-mile field trip to San Francisco.

Long, son of Mrs. W. L. Garner, 3609 Bickerstaff Street, Lafayette, is a senior in the air conditioning department.

The group's first stop was a vacuum-cooling plant that set the mood, in a physical sense only, of course, for "chilly" receptions at other installations in the Bay Area. Purpose of the trip was to study industrial refrigeration and air conditioning.

However, a truly warm reception was accorded the 27 as guests at a dinner meeting of the San Francisco chapter of the American Society of Refrigeration Engineers. Long is a member of Cal Poly's Air Conditioning Club, a student chapter of ASRE.

Of Bad Debts, Collections, And an Active Grand Jury

It looks like we're well on the way toward collecting a "bad debt."

The "bad debt" we're referring to is the money owed by the Contra Costa Housing Authority commissioners to the authority for money that was "misused," and to review the troubles that we, as citizens and a county, have had collecting that money would be a long and tiresome task.

At any rate, as reported in the columns of The Sun, the Contra Costa Grand Jury has ordered that the money will be paid back "by the end of the year."

WELL AND GOOD. It's about time! But isn't it a just a little sickening to have to force repayment of this money, which was ordered last June, with continual threats from the grand jury?

Our present district attorney, Francis Collins, did nothing to see that the original demands of the grand jury were carried out. Evidently he didn't feel that it was his responsibility. The present grand jury straightened him out on that score, and he has been ordered to see that the money is returned.

Now, we're not hitching a cart to a dead horse. It just seems that officials, who act in the manner that Collins has, give a bad name to all the officials who work for the county, and that is regrettable.

THERE ARE MANY hard working, honest, efficient elected officials, and it is a shame to have their names and abilities contaminated by officials who have not acted in the best interests of the taxpayer.

This is where we get such statements as "All politicians are crooks." This is not true, but one bad apple can certainly go a long way toward contaminating the barrel.

The grand jury was hampered in its efforts, too. This body acted only after they read the original stories in The Sun last year. The Sun is certainly not an investigative organization, and we have a limited staff. But the reporting of the housing authority activities by Sun staff members resulted in the grand jury's taking action.

This is an excellent example of how a public body and a newspaper can work together. It is also an example of the fact that the grand jury cannot take action for our welfare unless it is aware of the problems.

THE GRAND JURY actions were based, originally, on research and discussions by that group with Sun staff members. This is essentially democracy in action. It is individuals, people and organizations informing an official body of the necessity for action and having that action carried out to fulfillment.

The grand jury deserves commendation for its work—not only with regard to the housing authority, but in other fields as well. The committees are working hard, and they are working right now. The should be commended for not waiting until the end of their "year" in June before getting down to brass tacks as some previous grand juries have done.

It is not an easy task to serve on a grand jury committee, especially an active one. The task can be simplified, however, if the grand jury receives the cooperation of organizations and individuals.

If anyone has any substantial information—not just rumor or hearsay—they should contact the foreman of the grand jury, Edward Valentino, at 796 Colusa Avenue, El Cerrito.

It will be appreciated.

"... And the Rains Came!"

There's a popular song out now called "The Day That the Rains Came," and we're wondering just how long it's going to stay popular—at least in this area—when the rains do come.

Funny thing, the weather . . . just because it hasn't rained much yet doesn't mean that there's going to be a tremendous deluge when it does start. But on the other hand, you never can tell. Remember last winter?

So, at the risk of sounding a bit foolish (as this is being written the sun is shining warmly, and you'd swear it was a day in April) we would like to suggest that you might start filling your sandbags now.

WELL, YOU DON'T have to go that far. But you can start doing the little things that will make such a big difference when it gets slushy out.

For instance, have you cleaned the gutters around your roof? It is annoying to suddenly have a big dollop of water down the back of your neck when you're not expecting it, and the way to take care of that is to take the old leaves out of the gutters right now, before they get soggy and bogged down, and hard to clean out.

And while you're up there you might take a look at the roof proper. Any holes? How about where the TV antenna is fastened down?

Of course, there's the little problem of drainage. It isn't very thoughtful to dump all your water on your neighbor's lot, and you can bet that he won't appreciate it.

SOMETIMES, LIKE LAST April, we get so much water that you can't tell where it will go, but ordinary amounts you should be able to take care of.

How about cleaning the weeds out of your own little ditches and creeks where they adjoin your property. This is a sure way to see that the water gets past your house, anyway.

And, just to be on the safe side, you might fill a sandbag or two if you are in a low-lying area.

You won't be the only one cleaning house, that's for sure. The county has been at it all summer, clearing weeds and brush from creek channels, lining some with concrete and sand-filled bags and culverting some of the worst offenders.

This should make things a little better this year (unless we get another real doozer, like last year's). We're lucky, too. The county doesn't have to go the whole route alone.

THE STATE AND federal government are getting into the act, and the $24 million flood control project for the Walnut Creek watershed is slowly but surely making its way through the tangled web of national legislation.

It seems likely that money will not be appropriated for the actual construction on the project for two or even three years, but eventually it should help solve many of our problems.

In the meantime, we'll just have to shift for ourselves, on a personal, community and county basis.

So get to work! And while you're working, you can keep humming "The Day That the Rains Came."

We Forgot One Thing . . .

By NORMAN COLBY

We decided this year that we were going to be sensible—and just buy a few modest but appropriate gifts for close relatives—none of this wild Christmas extravagance which put us in a hole last year!

After all, it's the spirit of the thing, and people, especially those near to us, should understand, we reasoned.

A bottle of perfume for my mother, a statuette for her mother, handkerchiefs for my dad, cuff links for her brother, some candies for my sister's children.

And, of course, our best wishes for a very Merry Christmas!

But we reckoned without the Christmas music, the holiday decorations, the happy and exciting atmosphere generated when surrounded by hundreds of people, all digging deep into purses, scribbling in checkbooks, lugging large sacks and boxes to waiting cars.

We reckoned without the hundreds of glittering shelves, filled with glittering objects.

We were unexpectedly greeted by "The perfect gift" which in each case paled our original "sensible" gift into insignificance.

As a result, the statuette became a statue. The perfume became "Arpege." The handkerchief became a scarf. The cuff links became part of an accessory set. And the candies became little maple statues.

And new "beneficiaries" were suddenly called to mind.

"What happened to our original list?" she asked happily.

"Who cares?" I replied.

Finally—

"Well, we weren't really extravagant," she said.

"Heck no. After all, it IS Christmas," I replied.

We gathered our assorted sacks, boxes and packages and joined the main stream of sacks, boxes and packages.

And—

Later that evening she found on the kitchen table the list we had made.

Although carefully composed, it was quickly forgotten, even before we were out of the house.

WORSHIP TOGETHER THIS WEEK

We Like It Here . . .

There's Only ONE Xmas Star, ONE Santa Claus!

NO MATTER WHAT they say or sing or write to do, Christmas will ALWAYS be Christmas. NOTHING, Thank Heaven, can change that.

NOTHING CAN alter the real & Magic Moments . . . The breathless excitement on opening the old ornament box, the half-sad, half-glad feeling at finding the flattened paper angel, the tired torn gold wreath, a red paper & cotton Santa brought home so proudly from Kindergarten HOW many years ago?

THE SENTIMENTAL ornaments of yesteryear, lusterless but not loveless, suddenly brought to life by a child's eager hand placing them on the tree.

KID IT & CALL IT "Green Christmas" if we must, but just look around—There's Somebody's Young Daughter hugging her purse & pondering hard a VERY posh present for her wonderful Pop! That little six-yr. old boy So Carefully counting out his coin, a whole month's allowance saved for Big Sister's gift and brown-beanied Brownie girls tieing candy canes to a basket full of Cheer (& Food) For Someone NOT so Fortunate.

THAT SMILING GENT? He's a rich man, quite alone, but NOT so lonely any longer, after a series of stints at playing "Santa" this season. And Little Old Lady passing by, catching everyone's eye? She's an elderly widow who found a family when she volunteered to sit for a young widow who JUST had time to shop pre-Xmas sale prices for the five tots she's raising alone.

NEITHER CASH REGISTER rings or Commercialism can change the glow that goes with clearing the kitchen for a Kiddies' Cookie Bake or the lovely lull of late-evening card-addressing while choruses of Carols ring out across the pretty room.

OR THE LUMP in your throat when you promised to mail the childishly-scrawled letters to Santa or the thump in your heart when the newest Cub Scout in the family offered to build, all by himself, a real wooden-roofed stable for the Creche Scene the kids have crafted.

THE TUG AT your heartstrings when the big ball of mistletoe is FINALLY hung & The One Who Loves You lifts you up for a christening kiss to the children's delight!

OR A SUDDEN tear spills down your cheek at the strains of "O Holy Night".

THERE MAY BE a Santa Claus in every Dept. Store, but there's still only one REAL one. There may be modern stars & mobile stars & movie stars & a whole Milky Way of 'em, but there's still & always will be only ONE real Christmas Star.

COME ROCKETS to the Moon & Space Stations, there'll still be processions of people & caravans of lights the world o'er making their way to Midnight Services. The carillons will sing out the same beautiful song.

AND THE STORY OF CHRISTMAS, according to St. Luke, will always be the same. Till the End of Time. Christmas will Always Be, no matter what, and we can Thank Heaven for THAT!

Inside Out . . .

'Tis the Season, Friend To Fa La La, La La, La La

By JOYCE BARNUM

" 'Tis the season to be jolly!"

And let's don't forget this as we bustle about at the late shopping bit.

THERE ARE THE inevitable late shoppers who dash about from one store to another with faces set in the jolly expressions of defensive pro-football tackles on their own one foot lines.

Summon all your agility and attempt to avoid these desperation shoppers. If a collision occurs, despite your maneuvering, salute them with a jolly smile and cry, "Merry Christmas!"

There are some late shoppers so intent upon communing with their late lists that collisions and like salutations fail to draw them from their reveries.

FOR THESE, a laughing "Fa la la la la!" will almost invariably startle them sufficiently to cause them to look up with a somewhat bewildered, if not downright frightened, searching glance in your direction.

But should the shopper react to your jollity with a glare and a curt, "Oh, go deck your own halls," you will have met up with an incorrigible. This type is not only a late shopper, but may even be so far gone as to be a late, late shopper.

THESE PEOPLE are much more to be pitied than scorned. they are undoubtedly character defects. Little can be done to make their lot easier.

Even more to be pitied are the hapless clerks who draw the late, late shopper. (There are the hard working clerks—NOT to be confused with the clerks who, two months ago, carried on lingering conversations among themselves, giggling shrilly while the reasonably early shopper waited and waited. Now that the late, late shopper is on the scene, these clerks are out on their coffee breaks.)

It is the hard-working clerk, then, who draws the grim visaged late shopper. The grim one becomes ever grimmer as each item on the list is "out of stock now"—"all sold out."

RESIGNED TO HER FATE, the clerk accepts the ensuing tirade of blame for this situation and draws a deep breath before turning to face the upcoming late, late shopper.

So clear the decks and bow to the folly——

"Fa la la la la!"

Letters to The Editor

APPRECIATION

Dear Editor:

On behalf of the Pleasant Hill Junior Chamber of Commerce, I wish to thank you for the very fine coverage by your newspaper of our recent project, the presentation of a jet airplane to the children of our area.

While we still have some vandalism, we feel that your editorial was beneficial in bringing the attention of the general public to this situation. As a result, a great many of our residents are taking an interest in seeing that acts of this sort are stopped.

We of the junior chamber are always gratified when a project for the betterment of the area such as this brings us a pat on the back in the form of publicity. We feel we were more than amply rewarded for the time and effort spent on this project. BILL HANSEN

THANK YOU

DEAR EDITOR:

We would like to take this opportunity to extend to you and your staff our sincere best wishes for continued success in the forthright reporting of the happenings and of the issues which affect our community, and our sincere thanks for the extremely fine support The Sun has given to the Kiwanis Club of Lafayette.

We are sure that the efforts of your staff have contributed immeasurably to the many successes we have enjoyed in assisting the youth of Lafayette, and in promoting other worthwhile projects in this community. ED BROWN

COMMERCE TALK

DEAR EDITOR:

Reference is made to an article that appeared in the Lafayette Sun November 28 issue entitled "Supervisor proposes sum of $20,000 for Chambers". Last week, I received several calls regarding this article and frankly I did not know what to make of it until I received a copy of your paper to determine what the article had said.

This letter is not intended to imply any criticism on your part; however, I would like to correct the impression the article has left. I would appreciate it very much if such could be done. The following portions of this letter sets forth the actual meaning of the meeting that was held.

The special meeting of the committee of the Associated Chambers of Commerce of Contra Costa County was held in Martinez to discuss the problems that faced this organization relative to asking the Board of Supervisors for support of our local chambers of commerce.

Mr. Nielsen, representing the Board as their liason, was gracious enough to give us the benefit of his presence and suggestions. The representative of the Contra Costa County Development Association was not able to be present due to conflicting dates as the meeting was called very hurriedly.

In the discussion several important factors were brought out, not the least of which was the item of how the money, if appropriated, were to be distributed among our various members. To this end after discussion, it was decided that the formula by which the money will be distributed will be put into the capable hands of a third party, namely, the Central and Northern California Chambers of Commerce Executives, Inc.

Any reference to money in the meeting was purely done for the purposes of illustrating a point and not as a positive or definite figure contemplated by the Board of Supervisors. Furthermore, it was also suggested that the new County Administrator be contacted to engage his thoughts on the matter.

We feel, without qualifications, that the local chambers of commerce are definitely doing a job in this county and that we have earned our recognition by the county. To further our county in this Bay area additional funds are needed to properly promote and publicize our county.

We do not deem this to be in any way a direct competition to the Development Association but rather a complement to it and in such a team, our work as well as theirs will be greatly benefited and will result in a better program for all concerned.

The above is, in essence, the result of that meeting held in Martinez. I would appreciate it if an article to such an effect can be published to correct the situation as it has developed. This will do our cause a great service; to leave it alone will foster ill-feeling among the principals of the acts.

Further releases will be screened by the president of the organization before it is released to the newspapers.

HARRY NAKAHARA
President of the Associated Chambers of Commerce

TEEN STORY

DEAR EDITOR:

This is to thank you for the article concerning the Teen Code Committee meeting.

As you know, when a project of this type is undertaken, it requires a great deal of tact and understanding on the part of all concerned, and the reception and acceptance of the whole idea will be greatly influenced by the publicity.

The response to your article was very gratifying and I hope that we may count on your continued interest and support.

Ooops--The Old Man is On the Soap Box Again!

By HERMAN SILVERMAN

Did you read the story last week about the Musicians' Union of Richmond stopping the El Cerrito High School band from playing Christmas music at the El Cerrito Plaza? The union secretary declared if the students played he would have them picketed because they were taking jobs away from professional musicians.

The high school principal, students and the mayor were mighty mad. They said the students had asked to play and sing at the Plaza to foster the Christmas spirit. If the students didn't play, there would be no music.

Plenty of other people were also mad (not angry), judging from letters to the editor I have noticed.

However, I was not surprised.

Let me tell you a story

About eight years ago The Sun had the opportunity of presenting the wonderful Marine Corps band from San Diego in a "Concert in the Park." It was a warm, summer night and about 4,000 people spread blankets on the football field at Acalanes for a delightful concert.

It was so sucessful that next year we contacted the Air Force Band at Parks Base near Livermore to play for you people. Dates and details were arranged.

Then, the same musicians' union (from Richmond) stepped in and said "No concert—unless you hire an equal number of our musicians to stand by." The Air Force band would not play unless cleared by the union.

Needless to say, there were no more concerts in the park.

The senate investigation

Are you still following the stories in the papers exposing the graft, crime and corruption of many unions throughout the country? What do you think of Hoffa's announcement that he will start to organize the New York City police department.

Less nefarious but certainly undesirable is the movement of unions to control political parties and governments on various levels—cities, legislatures, states, congress, etc.

Let me remind you of an incident in your own backyard. The local clerks' union walked in to Ken Jensen's Lafayette Dime and Dollar and demanded that he sign a contract which automatically would place all his employees in their union.

Ken did not refuse. He simply stated that he had no right to decide the issue. He arranged for the union organizer to speak to the women clerks in his store. The decision was in their hands. They refused to join.

No, that was not that

Certainly the matter should have ended then and there. But the clerks' union said that Ken had to sign, regardless of the rights of his employees, or they would picket the store.

Ken Jensen is one of the nicest guys you have ever met. It would have made little difference to him whether his store was "union" or not. On the other hand, a picket could be disastrous—no deliveries of merchandise by teamsters, customers scared away, his help might quit rather than be exposed to the pressures. His business could be ruined.

Ken, however, sincerely felt he had an obligation to his employees, to a principle and to himself. He chose to take the picket.

The clerks' union picketed his store for nearly three years. It was 35 months long to be exact. But Ken Jensen and his staff won. The union finally quit. A similar story can be told of only a few other high-principled men, such as Mort Sparling and his drug store.

Not all good nor bad

I did not intend to go off on a tangent about unions. Surely, we can agree that the unions have done many, many wonderful things to improve the conditions of the working man. And, of course, there are good unions and bad unions and good and bad practices among all unions.

I only hope that union leaders (and the membership) will realize their responsibilities and not undo the good they have done. Meanwhile, laws must be passed to clean up the mess. Even labor admits this. But our public officials must have the courage to do what is necessary.

Well, perhaps I should get off the soap box. I didn't intend a lecture. What do you think?

SCHOOL COSTS

Dear Editor:

Everyone is concerned about taxes, especially school taxes. It may be well to follow the example of the State of Delaware as reported in the "Engineering Record" as follows:

(Note: The following is from the Engineering News Record July 24, 1958:)

A special committee of Delaware's state legislature recommends that school construction responsibilities be turned over to a special Public School Construction Commission appointed by the governor.

A bill proposing establishment of such a commission has been submitted to the House Education Committee for consideration.

The committee says school construction costs are beyond the control of local school boards. The proposed commission would exercise tight control over spending. If a school required major alterations, or if a new school were needed, the local school board would have to obtain a certificate of necessity from the commission.

The commission also would have the final word on preliminary plans for district schools. . . .

Committee members criticized "extra frills" in some schools. These include "special trim, epecially designed classrooms, windows, ceiling, floors; and special-purpose rooms such as music rooms, music practice rooms, teachers' lounge, separate gymnasium, separate auditorium, separate cafeterias and special libraries."

Without these features, the report says, "a school board could build modern and adequate school at moderate low cost without sacrificing the essentials necessary to educate the child."

LEO H. STOLL

NOMINATION

Dear Editor:

Having just read Herman Silverman's column "Under The Sun," I'll take you at your word and offer the following comments. Your paper has improved over the years.

The material is gripping enough that I want to read it. There was a time when I could walk right by your paper when it was lying on the coffee table. Now I'm urged to pick it up and take time out to read it.

One criticism though! Why be so vitriolic in your denunciation of people? You have a goft of "words" and they're not wishy-washy—but I would like it better if they sounded just a bit softer.

As for the Pleasant Hill Man of the Year—even though he did not get the office for which he ran—I can't think of a more deserving man than my husband, Ray Taylor.

He has sacrificed his children, his home and himself in his desire to achieve things for his district. He has given more of himself to forward these goals than any man I have ever known. He has conscientiously worked trying to get results that would benefit "his people."

Every move made in his home at his work, or on the outside was done to bring about these results.

He worked to win the board of supervisors over to his side. That meant patience and effort. He worked on the state level to get the good will of those people so they would in turn assist the board. Some of the things he wanted to achieve will mature in the near future, but it was he who laid the groundwork.

On The Lighter Side

by INA BLIESNER • YE 4-3818

'Twas a merry, merry evening for Walnut Creek Area Junior Chamber of Commerce members, their wives and guests when they danced from ten 'til two at the Sequoyah Country Club on a recent Saturday night.

This, the fourth annual holiday formal, was the big social event of the year for the Jaycees. White, red and gold were featured colors and were used on the tables, around the ballroom and on the bids. Red candles in white styrafoam holders were prettily arranged with white and gold holly leaves.

These groupings were placed upon wide red center strips which highlighted the white tablecloths.

At the entrance stood a heavily flocked white tree and in the lounge area groups gathered throughout the evening around another lovely tree. All evening long a buffet table at the edge of the dance floor was well supplied with fancy dips and snacks—naturally adding much to the success of the evening.

And greeting guests at the door . . .

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Covert of Walnut Creek, general chairmen, greeted guests at the door—Mrs. Covert glamorous in a black harem-skirted frock of jersey and taffeta, a corsage of red roses at her shoulder. Club President and Mrs. Jack Hartman entertained local dignitaries and friends at a party prior to the dance.

Mrs. Hartman chose a salmon shaded satin gown—the low V in back topped with a salmon rose. Other party hosts were: The Thomas Haspers (Mrs. Hasper wore black velvet with a kind of net bustle in which pink roses nestled), the Robert Williams (Mrs. W. stunning in a black silk faille—a multi-colored aqua chiffon scarf encircling her neck and flowing down to the back hemline), the Dick Lauers, Fred Sanders and Dick Harts.

Jean and Joe Downs have made elegant plans for the holidays. Following visits with both of their families in Southern California, they will spend several days in Mexico City after which they will trek to Acapulco, vacationing there until the first of the year.

And just about everybody was there

Possibly there are a FEW of you who didn't turn out for the "Gala Preview" of the "New Orinda Willows"—but it doesn't seem too likely. We managed to squeeze in and from what we could see, the new decor is quite nice. Liked the music of the "Mel-o-aires," and though we hadn't the courage to brave the lines forming for the complimentary buffet—it was a lovely sight to see. Saw the tops of the heads of the Paul Demeters, Don Whites, Bill Vaughns, Milt Vallens and Bill Wordens—thanked the gracious manager William Garecht, and escaped to the comparative restfulness of "Cape Cod House," bless it!

Mrs. R. M. Iversen's home in Alamo was the setting for the most recent Mary Dayle Unit (of Mt. Diablo Therapy Center) meeting. Mrs. John Rasmussen of Danville was elected the new president and other new officers are the Mmes. Edward McIntosh, Harold Apger, William Owsley and Chester Gillig.

During the social hour, when refreshments were served, the many activities of the unit during 1958 were reviewed—and mighty successful they were, too, with a total of $2500 having been contributed to the Center.

Five new members were welcomed: The Mmes. Lloyd Davis, Russell Wilgus, Stuart R. Gunn, J. W. Irvin and W. B. Reinheimer—actually the latter resumed active membership.

A beautiful home, lovely people

Sunday evening Judie and Ken Allen's lovely new pink home in Lafayette literally GLOWED. The occasion—a gathering of Delta Gamma Alumns and their husbands who spent several happy-holiday hours in the beautifully decorated living and family rooms which were lighted by candlelight ONLY. Judie is a whiz at concocting unusual arrangements and there were so many lovely ones in so many places that descriptions are difficult. A full-length white felt stocking appliqued with pink ballet dancers and encrusted with baubles hung from the front door.

In the living room a spectacular tree hung with myriads of pink ornaments and bows was flooded with pink lights. On the mantel stood an 18-inch "Madonna and Child" behind which floated pink snowlflakes. Of special note was a large, antique china cabinet filled with hundreds of priceless dolls which Judie has been collecting since childhood—all dressed in traditional fashion in luscious silks and satins.

The family room was cozy and gay with an old fashioned tree—an old, old pot-bellied stove causing much comment. The hostess was, as always, lovely to look at in a golden brocaded party dress. Joan (Mrs. Samuel) Mason and Jeanette (Mrs. Don) Hargrave both chose to wear flame-hued frocks and Betty (Mrs. Gordon) Wise looked equally festive in emerald green.

Sally (Mrs. Richard) Dunn was a bit more conservative in a navy silk but placed clusters of red berries in her blonde locks. A few other guests were the Gorrill Butlers, Dick Cummocks, "Buck" Bergers, Bob Gordons and Pat Outsens.

Traditional now is the holiday-time "get-together" of the "Flicker" members and their husbands. This year they converged upon the Pittsburg Yacht Club laden with pre-dinner goodies and a pot-luck dinner consisting of heaps of fried chicken and fixin's.

The couples in charge, Louise and Howard Buck, Frances and Bob Schroder, Robert and Eileen Patrick, Janet and Dick Lieber, Audrey and Jack Gordon, Lorraine and Dick Olson and Betty and Lloyd Smith had planned many hilarious games—and, of course, there was dancing and community singing.

For the young and young in heart

And THEN there were the young (and the young at heart) who gathered, en masse, at the Diablo Country Club for the very first combined affair planned by the junior units of the Therapy Center. This, a fanciful, light-hearted dance was called "Falling Leaves"—and leaves there were! Golden and glittering, they festooned the walls, hung from a huge branch which towered over the ballroom's entrance, and were combined with seads of gold walnuts which trimmed the copper-toned, draped table where punch and cookies (made by all of the "pretties") were served at eleven.

The title was depicted in big, gold, block letters behind the orchestra. The three units represented this year were the Doves, Parakeets and Junior Robins—but—if this, as is hoped, becomes an annual event, the new Bobolinks from Miramonte will be on hand, too.

Some of the sponsors were the Messrs. and Mmes. William Vincent, Ken Richardson, C. W. White, Richard Olson, Paul Ditzler, Robert Ausfahl, Dave Penna and Robert Schneider. Twirling and swirling and LOVING it were—to name a few—Jane Church and Bill Newton, Sue McDuff and Link Van Ummerson, Carol Ferry and John Hosford, Raylene Herman and Jeff Little, Joan Westphal and Alfred Newman, Carol Nicolasen and John Imrie, Jo Ann Agobasian and David Graves, Bev Gutleben and Ed French, Harriet Page and Bill Landridge, Nancy Bogue and Rick Strachan and Diane Collenwood and Bill Martin.

The Bobolinks and their mothers were guests of the Tananger Unit at a tea the other day. Mrs. Virla Krotz explained the work of the Center—and the girls are most enthusiastic. I hear that their cake sale in Orinda last Saturday was a BIG success. They have now planned for two different tours through the center, according to their advisor—Mrs. Richard Myers.

Fellowship Program for TB Gets Local Aid

Contra Costa Tuberculosis and Health Association this month is promoting two special educational activities.

Announcements have gone out from the local association regarding available fellowships designed to allow graduate students to complete their education particularly in the field of respiratory diseases.

Fellowships are available to doctors and other students interested in carrying on research for an advanced degree other than M.D.

Fellowships are paid for by contributions received in the National office from local TB Associations.

Appealing to younger students entries are being received in the local office from schools in the county who are participating in the Annual School Press Project.

School newspapers, carrying an article on tuberculosis, are submitted for judging by a joint committee from Columbia Scholastic Press Association and the National TB Association. The objective, according to Bernard J. Callaghan, chairman of the Public Information Committee is to motivate young people to learn about tuberculosis and to interpret the problem to others through "the medium of the printed word."

In addition, he explained, the Columbia Scholastic Press Associations judge the total newspaper. The long range goal in this program is to develop Science writers who are needed to explain medical facts to the lay public.

One of the earliest education programs this year marks the 22nd consecutive year for the School Press Project, Callaghan said.

Group Seeks Summer Jobs For Teenagers

The Central and Eastern Contra Costa Youth Employment Guidance Committee is steadily working towards fulfillment of its goal—more summer jobs in a wider area for teen-agers in 1959.

Lt. Robert Bahl of the Concord Police Department is chairman of the committee including employers, labor union, service and civic club and governmental representatives.

Last summer youths from Pacifica, Mt. Diablo, Pleasant Hill and Alhambra High Schools were placed through the Youth Employment Service of the Pittsburg office of the California Department of Employment. All worked growing and harvesting crops in the Walnut Creek-Concord and Oakley - Brentwood areas, Bahl said.

The committee is now seeking means of developing summer job opportunities for teen-agers in other fields.

Contra Costa To Receive $140,220.33

State Controller Robert C. Kirkwood today announced that highway users taxes totaling $29,599,328 were apportioned in November for California counties, cities and the State Highway Fund for expenditure on highways.

Highway users taxes received in October were apportioned last month as follows: Counties, $6,993,836; State Highway Fund for distribution to cities, $2,739,905; and State Highway Fund for expenditure on highways, $19,865,587.

Contra Costa County's share amounted to $140,220.33 Kirkwood said.

The total apportionment showed an increase of $1,910,463, or 6.90 percent, over the preceding month, and a decrease of $1,452,[illegible], or 4.68 percent, from the same period last year.

Sources of the latest distribution were: net gasoline tax, $26,303,087; use (diesel) fuel tax, $2,369,255; transfer from Motor Vehicle Transportation Tax Fund, $926,721; and miscellaneous, $265.

Gross gasoline taxes collected in October totaled $28,210,094, an increase of $243,521, or .87 percent, over the preceding month, and an increase of $254,481, or .91 percent, over the same month last year.

In determining the net gasoline tax for distribution, these deductions were made: refunds for non-highway users, $1,877,171; administrative expenses, $669; and a reserve of $29,167 for apportionment of unrefunded tax on aviation gasoline.

Refunds showed a decrease of $62,486, or 3.22 percent, from the amount refunded during the preceding month.

Use fuel tax collections totaled $2,369,255—an increase of $1,106,483, or 87.62 percent, over the preceding month, and an increase of $97,486, or 4.29 percent, over the same month last year.

Dr. Bittner Chosen by Cancer Group

Dr. D. L. Bittner, resident of Lafayette, has accepted the position of education chairman for the Contra Costa Branch of the American Cancer Society, Dr. Frederick A. Pellegrin, county president, announced today.

Dr. Bittner will inaugurate a year-around program of education to bring lifesaving methods of detecting early cancer home to every individual who can be reached, he said today.

"I believe it is possible to arrest cervical cancer, one of the commonest in women, by periodic examination," Dr. Bittner declared.

"The diagnostic smear is of value not only in detecting cervical cancer but in finding pulmonary, bladder and kidney carcinoma," Dr. Bittner revealed.

The specialist added that memorial gifts appropriately made during the Christmas season to the cancer society go directly to support vital cancer research.

Memorials in any amount may be dispatched directly to the American Cancer Society by addressing them to the society, care of the postmaster, in any community, he explained.

Voodoo Dolls Have Poison Says Doctor

"Haitian Voodoo dolls carved from cashew nut shells can be harmful to persons handling them" warned Dr. Warren A. Ketterer, Assistant Health Officer, Contra Costa County.

The dolls have been imported and sold as novelties, decorations on childrens' straw slippers, and as beverage 'swizzle sticks'."

A U. S. Public Health Service analysis of the dollas reveals that the nut "heads" contain a chemical similar to the oil in poison oak.

People who were tested with pieces of shell developed blisters on their skin within 35 to 50 minutes.

Possibly even more dangerous are the dolls' eyes which are believed to be letho-jequirity beans. One "eye" or bean, if taken internally can cause severe, sometimes fatal, illness.

Dr. Ketterer stated "that the U. S. Public Health Service requested the Haitian Government to stop shipment following a recent report of an allergy outbreak involving 50 students in an Atlanta (Georgia) high school.

It is believed, however, that a substantial number of dolls have already been sold in the United States. County residents are urged to use extreme caution in the handling of these dolls.

Heart Fund Has Volunteers for Solicitations

Organization of an Industry Committee for the 1959 Heart Fund was announced this week by Chester Bekins, Heart Fund chairman of the Contra Costa Heart Association.

"For the first time in a Heart Fund drive in this county, we have organized a group of volunteers to collect contributions from large firms and businesses," Bekins said.

"This is in line with our effort to broaden the base of giving in order to meet an increased goal for Heart Association research and other programs," he added.

He said that collections last year, largely from the Heart Sunday residential drive in February, amounted to $45,552. Quota for this year is $60,000.

"Chapters all over the nation have accepted larger quotas this year in an effort to increase funds available for research into the heart diseases which are taking an increasing toll of lives in our nation," Bekins said.

He pointed out that in terms of economic loss, production costs due to heart disease add up to over three billion dollars a year. "Therefore," he said, "industry has a real stake in the conquest of heart disease."

Get Set For Fete At Blake's

By THE DINER

SPORTIING HANDLEBAR MUSTACHES at Larry Blake's Gaslight House in Walnut Creek are Waiters Eddie Hoffman and Howard Douglas. Once an emblem of revolutionary thinkers of the 19th century, the facial adornments give Eddie and Howard an opportunity to add a touch of realism to the "gaslight era" atmosphere in which "cooking with character" is vouched for by discriminating gourmets. (Ed. Note—Helps also to keep a stiff upper lip.)

AMONG DINERS AT THE GASLIGHT Sunday evening were the Jack Lees of Hayward and Lucky Stores. Susan and Jane Keane were presented with twin birthday cakes by their parents, Walter and Barbara Keane, Berkeley artists, the same evenings.

GROWING POPULARITY of Mel's Drive-In Walnut Room cocktail lounge is the fault of Jim Scharff, the refreshment stand's new bartender, a local produce.

HOUSEWIVES AND THOSE OVEN-FRESH PIES at the Nut Bowl in both Pleasant Hill and Walnut Creek are getting together as the festive Christmas holiday approaches. Sale of mince meat and pumpkin pies is expected to exceed last year's total of some 1252 pies sold. Vern Snedden suggests the girls get orders in "for pies you can be proud to serve as your own" as soon as possible.

NEW WAGON HO DINNER of prime rib at only $1.75 is popular with the ladies, according to John Corsetti. The Walnut Creek dinner house limits the ladies to one helping which they appreciate. The Pioneer dinner at $2.75 is an "all you can eat" fare. The Wagon Ho will be closed Christmas Day. The bar will remain open Christmas Eve.

Sanitary Board Talks Sewer Use Charge

A study of the feasibility of a sewer use charge was authorized by directors of the Central Contra Costa Sanitary District December 11.

Directors indicated they would favor a use charge if the district operating tax rate could be reduced by an equivalent amount.

District Manager Gerry Horstkotte was directed to prepare a study showing the effect of a use charge on the average taxpayer and to insure that he will pay no more than at present.

Annexation charges may be continued, the board said.

Clubgoers Enjoy Buffet In Twinkling Yule Decor

By BILL HINES

"Joy to the World" sounded true and clear Sunday evening at the Orinda Country Club as 635 members and guests stepped across the threshold to enter a magic world of Yule decor and festivity.

Within there was not only the pleasant environment of holiday spirit expressed in a plump white Christmas tree with shimmering golden balls, and decorations that included mistletoe, holly, and tinsel-wrapped candlesticks, but a mountain of enticing viands.

THIRTY-EIGHT beef roasts, each weighing about 29 pounds, —totaling over a half-ton— were consumed by gourmands with carnival appetites, according to Chef Bruno Caioli.

Gourmets with more delicate tastes ate their ways through uncounted amounts of imported escargot, steamed clams, lobster, glaced turkey, hot sweetbreads and chicken livers, Icelandic gafelbitters, 10 different kinds of salads, smoked oysters and many another rare delicacy.

SOME LUCULLANS, of course, not only combined both gourmet and gourmand attitudes toward victuals, but went back for second and third helpings.

The focus of attention at the beautifully spread buffet was the glistening creche created by Jim Budge of San Francisco, noted ice sculptor.

Figures three and four feet high reproduced the Christmas nativity scene with Mary and Joseph, angels, the three Wise men, a donkey, a lamb and three huge bells.

A constant stream of party-goers began arriving at 5:30 p.m., continued to come in clusters of four, six, eight and more, until 10 p.m.

UNDER TWINKLING crystal chandeliers pleasantries murmured against a background of antique Christmas song. Frequently some sally brought gay, loud laughter from one table or another.

The staff, happy as guests at the once-yearly affair, saw to their comfort quitely and efficiently.

Behind the happy time enjoyed by club-goers there obviously lay many weeks of preparation by Clark Mathews, club manager.

Standing beside Kropf is Clark Mathews, club manager, face hidden by post. Unveiling of creche at 5 p.m., half hour before first guests were to arrive, was tense moment for most of club staff. Matadors Nab Jambo Crown

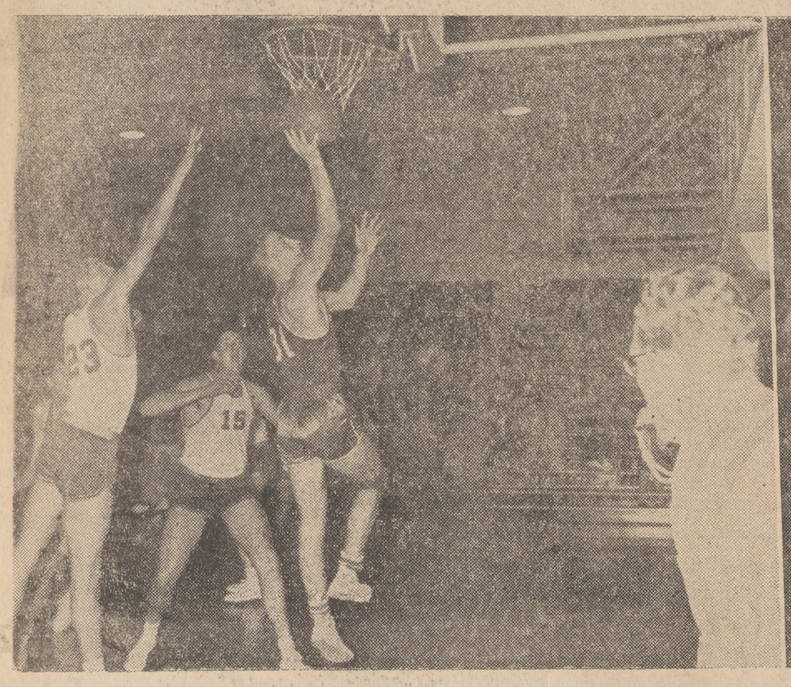
-Sun Sports-

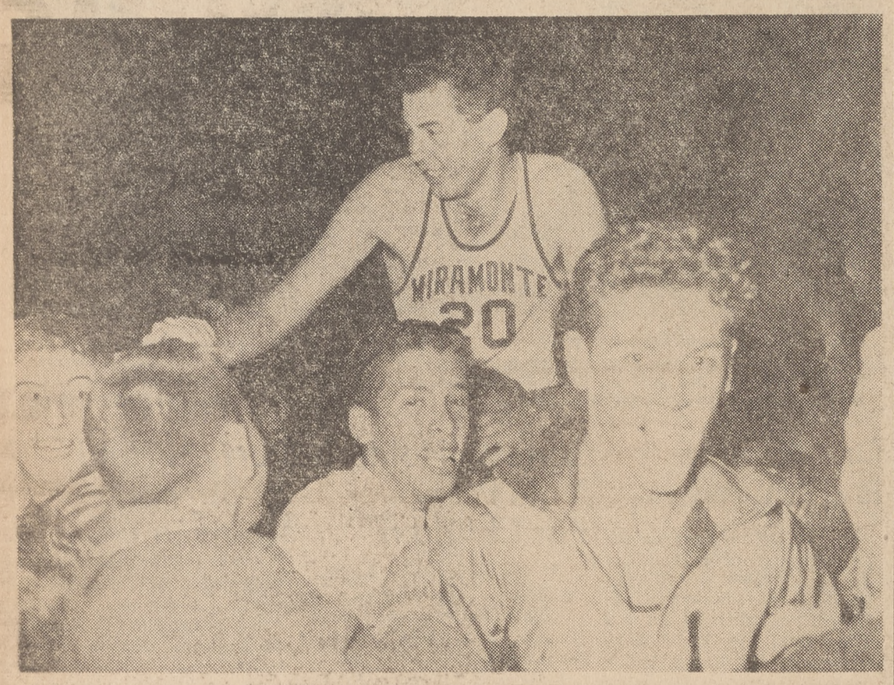


BOB HUDSON of Miramonte (31) starts for layup as Rod Holcomb (23) of Las Lomas stretches his arm as far as it can go to try to prevent score. Using body English against basket is Dave Weil (15) Las Lomas. Hudson made the bucket. This and other scenes pictured on this page, occurred at Basketball Jamboree last weekend at Miramonte High School gym.

FEROCITY OF Bengal tigers is shown by expressions of Miramonte's Bob Hudson (with ball), being guarded from rear by Las Lomas' big Dave Weil, while Clark Ransome of Knights tries to touch toe with fingers. Hurrying into center of action are Matadors' Tim Crawford (45) and Knights' Jim Sisler (11).

ALLEY OOP!—Dewaine Stults (21) of Acalanes goes up for easy one as teammate Tom Strain (11) pushes ball up and in with wishing and with his eyes. Piedmont's Pete Rowe (11) came charging in moment too late. Acalanes' Tom Strain, just behind Rowe, stretches jaw muscles to help ball in as Piedmont's George Tolon (17) tries to hex it out.

HAND INNA PUSS is what unidentified Knight gets from teammate as both try for ball a second after it left that spot. Up in the air to grab it is Miramonte's No. 35. Others identified are Las Lomas' Dave Weil (15) and Rod Holcomb (23). Hassle was just one among many that kept anxious fans rooting for their teams throughout two-day tourney.



JOHN COFFEY (20) of Miramonte, 6'7" center is hoisted aloft on shoulders of exuberant teammates a second after he sank last and winning basket which won game and championship for Matadors in overtime play.

MIRAMONTE NOT ONLY captured crown for best basketball play in Jamboree tourney, but brought home bacon with rooting section which was awarded first place trophy. Cheerleader attempts to lead yells but finds, at this moment, eyes of all riveted on team.

Ball Bucketed as Buzzer Sounds; Don String Snaps

By ERWIN MATTSON

The Miramonte Matadors did it the hard way Saturday night when they won top honors in a thrilling comeback that saw them edge the Acalanes Dons 4-3 in an overtime game after both club ended up with a plus-29 average at the end of regular play.

JOHN COFFEY was Miramonte's Man-of-the-Second as he shoved in a field goal just as the buzzer sounded.

The two clubs hooked up in the five-minute overtime with the Dons taking a 3-0 lead on three free throws.

George McMeans chalked up the first point when play was 1 minute and 5 seconds along. Then Mel Simpson hit a charity to make it 2-0.

The Dons, playing ball control, made it 3-0 when Paul Colin was fouled and hit again for Acalanes from the free throw line.

Time was running out when Orinda's ace guard Bill Houston hit from 15 feet out on a jump shot with but 35 seconds to go.

Acalanes took possession and with but 5 seconds to go Simpson was fouled again and stepped to the foul line to hit the second shot only to have it nullified because time had been called.

THE RE-TRY missed and Miramonte took the rebound and called time.

Time-in gave them the ball at mid-court, and they made the most of it with Houston breaking from the foul line, dribbling to his left and lobbing the ball over the outstretched arms of Acalanes players to 6'7" center John Coffey, who jumped up and sank the winning bucket as the buzzer sounded.

The Miramonte rooters gave vent to their feelings and doubly so as they also won the trophy for the best rooting section.

COFFEY AND HOUSTON were named to the All-Tournament Team along with Bill Yonge and McMeans of Acalanes and Tom Nichols of Las Lomas.

Piedmont failed to win in their two nights of play, but did give Miramonte a go of it Saturday night when they played them to an 11-11 half-time lead and while they finally lost, 29-17, they did force Miramonte into a playoff with Acalanes.

Another highlight of the tourney was the awarding by Daten Sports Institute of medals for preps of the week to Miramonte's Houston and Bill Hudson.

Each team played two games of 5 minute quarters each night, with the following results:

FRIDAY

Las Lomas 32, Piedmont 14
Miramonte 33, San Ramon 25
Acalanes 31, Las Lomas 21
San Ramon 28, Piedmont 25
Miramonte 28, Acalanes 21

THIS MAD SCRAMBLE occurred during Acalanes-Piedmont game. Only ones Sun photographer Erwin Mattson was able to identify were, at left of other players, trying to beat referee to ball, Acalanes' Doug Treter; deciding that he'll have to crawl over Piedmont man to Get That Ball, the Dons' Steve Lamphere.

What the Experts Are Saying:

In the Foothill Division it looks like Miramonte will be the team to beat.

They have definitely come of age in the hoop game and Coach Bob Callen has welded a well-knit unit.

Confidence came with the winning streak which finds them undefeated at this time and champions of the recent Miramonte Basketball Jamboree.

Las Lomas and Acalanes have been spotty in their performances, but rate as the challengers—just how serious remains to be seen.

The otter's favorite pastime is sliding. During the warm months a mother and her young will spend hours every day sliding down steep creek banks.

San Ramon, Minus 35
Piedmont, Minus 44

JC Wives Give Urn To Spouses

The Lafayette Jaycees, with their wives and guests, held their annual Christmas Ball Saturday at the Veterans Memorial Hall.

The hall was colorfully decorated with red and white Japanese paper ornaments, pine boughs, crepe paper streamers. Red bows trimmed the tall white tree. The tables glistened with Christmas candles and poinsettias.

Highlight of the evening was the surprise presentation of a large coffee maker to the Jaycees from the Jaycee Wives Club. Mrs. Art Robson, Wives Club president, presented the gift to Everett Fuller, Jaycee president.

The group enjoyed dancing, followed by a midnight buffet supper.

Mrs. Don Andresen was food committee chairman. Mrs. Fuller was in charge of decorations.

TREES for Christmas

SALE OF "CHOOSE AND CUT" has exceeded expectations, however we still have plenty of first and second grade up to 7 feet in pine and cypress for one to two dollars each.

For you who love beauty unadorned, come out and choose from our 2000 cypresses, the matched pairs for console table, one dollar each. Take one or a dozen. Don't worry; if you cut mantle, window frame or hearth; to 3 feet 50 cents, to 7 feet above the first ring the stump will reproduce for years.

The matching of the interesting variations in foliage texture and color, structure and conformation is a challenge. Have some competitive fun. We will help cut.

Council Against Army Missiles At Mt. Diablo

Consideration of a site on Mt. Diablo for use as an Army Missile Station has been opposed by the Contra Costa County Park and Recreation Council in a letter to Congressman John F. Baldwin from William Drake, president.

In requesting that the Army investigate other possible locations, Drake said the recreational and scenic values of Mt. Diablo are the outstanding landscape feature in Contra Costa County with the only local state park.

Enlargement of Mt. Diablo State Park is now under way. The Park and Recreation Council seeks to preserve areas of future parkland in anticipation of further expansion.

Two hundred members and guests attended the eighth annual Christmas party of the General Contractors Association of Contra Costa County held last night at the El Nido Restaurant, Lafayette.

Briones Dam Job To Flood Valley NW of Lafayette

Final determination of the site of the Briones Dam and Reservoir which will inundate Briones Valley northwest of Lafayette is near, the East Bay Municipal Utility District revealed this week.

In a letter to more than 20 property owners in Briones Valley, EBMUD General Manager John W. McFarland informed them that the dam will be constructed across the valley on an east-west axis, at a point on Bear Creek Road, 1.3 miles from the intersection of Bear Creek Road and San Pablo Dam Road.

This would place the dam at the southernmost of the seven locations studied, and cause the inundation of some 20 or more properties above the point in question.

THE LETTER said: "The geological and engineering evaluation studies are expected to be completed during February, 1959. Final determination should be made by March 31, 1959. Steps toward property acquisition will then be begun and carried forward to conclusion as promptly as conditions and situations encountered will permit.

"In the meantime the district is making acreage surveys, called for title reports on all properties concerned, and will expedite appraisals and surveys to form the basis for interim and ultimate negotiations.

"Actual construction of the dam will begin about April 1, 1960, and all property acquisitions should be accomplished not later than the end of 1959.

"REALIZING THE importance of these facts to you, and being sympathetically aware of the far-reaching effect of the action contemplated, we are anxious to clarify any questions arising in your mind.

"It would seem that an informal meeting of actual property owners with EBMUD representatives would be the most effective method of exchanging matters of interest and concern.

"In this connection, we must bear in mind that probably your most important questions, such as individual values and times of acquisitions, cannot be forecast at this time and, in some cases, not for many months to come."

Rev. Blossom Is Appointed

At a December quarterly meeting of the Greater Mt. Diablo Chapter of the American National Red Cross, Rev. Chauncey E. Blossom was appointed as a director.

He will finish out the term of Mrs. Robert B. Williams of Orinda.

Rev. Blossom will serve on the Disaster Committee, which is headed by Mr. Ted Schroder of Walnut Creek.

Water Safety Group Seeking 8-Foot Boat

The Water Safety Committee of the Greater Mt. Diablo Chapter, Red Cross, is seeking an eight foot pram(boat).

The committee will form a team to be used to demonstrate Life Saving and small craft safety to be available for the public.

Any person who has an idle Pram(boat) may call the chapter house.

Mrs. Richard Myer, Water Safety chairman, is in charge. Mrs. George Cooper is assisting.

This group welcomed Miss Elizabeth Bettencourt, 3182 Acalanes Avenue, Lafayette.

She is a member of the Acalanes High School faculty. She has completed a refresher course in Water Safety instruction and is now authorized to teach in the Greater Mt. Diablo Chapter.

Next year will be the 50th anniversary of American Red Cross Nursing, of care for the sick, injured and wounded which has been provided in war and peace since 1909.

The national organization and its chapters will all pay homage to all nurses who have embodied the ideal of Red Cross—service to humanity and mitigation of suffering.

Florence Nightingale inspired Henri Dunant, a Frenchman. As a result he started the international Red Cross movement.

After a few years it was decided that nurses for the Red Cross should all wear white armlets with a red cross.

Clara Barton, followed and founded the American Red Cross in 1881.

Later, she and Jane A. Delano went into the field to help control yellow fever in Florida. Out of this grew the National Red Cross Nursing Service in 1909.

Stores Open Every Night

Business Booming in Central County Stores During Christmas Season

Business is really booming in the central county area these days, and throngs are heading for stores to get Christmas shopping taken care of.

Many merchants report that residents have taken advantage of early sales and late closing hours to do Christmas shopping much earlier than ever before.

SOME STORES report that even though the largest selection ever of goods has been stocked for Christmas, a few sizes and colors of items have already been completely sold out.

"People are really doing a lot of buying these days and with the way merchants have stocked shelves and purchased in volume lots, savings are being passed right along to the customers," said one clothing merchant.

Several merchants have reported that gross sales have already topped last year's figures for this season.

ASKED THE REASON for the increase in shopping and business, one merchant stated:

"I think people realize that the recession scare is all over. Our prices are better than ever and employment seems to be up. With this combination of circumstances, we know that all of us will begin looking forward to a terrific New Year."

Park Council Plans, Seeks New Members

The Contra Costa Park and Recreation Council believes that the time has come to finish the job it started seven years ago, according to a letter sent out this week by William Drake, president.

"Time is running short," said Drake, "because park sites are disappearing and land costs are skyrocketing."

"Seven years is a long time to work for a goal. We might as well be getting a little bit impatient. We think it's time the county completed a master plan for parks — time we had a county park department with a professional park director to turn our dreams into reality," said Drake.

Plans for informational work during the coming year include educational materials for effective action, the continuation of the monthly newsletter, a new brochure, informational reports, color-slides for illustrated talks, and perhaps even a new motion picture depicting our county's natural assets and need for parks.

In order to carry out this program funds are needed by the council. Dues are $1 per year for individual or family, and additional contributions are welcome.

Funds may be sent to William Drake, president, Box 121, Canyon.

Ski Club to Explain Cabin

Members of Mt. Diablo Ski Club will be briefed on a cabin newly leased for the winter season when they meet at 8 p.m. Wednesday at 2080 Willow Pass Road in downtown Concord.

The cabin, which accommodates 20 comfortably, is located near Kings Beach at the north end of Lake Tahoe, Ed Kamlan, president, reports.

Films and slides of the club's activities on and off the ski slopes will be shown. At 6:30 p.m., preceding the meeting, a potluck dinner will be held.

WC Stores Are Open Late For Convenience

"It's certainly fortunate both for Walnut Creek stores and our customers that we adopted open-nightly shopping hours for this Christmas season," Betty Batesole, Chamber of Commerce director, noted yesterday.

"Without the extra hours, I don't see how Walnut Creek merchants would have been able to take care of the crowds.

The great majority of stores are remaining open until 9 every night, except Saturdays and Christmas Eve.

The annual program was undertaken as an added convenience to area shoppers during the busy Yuletide buying period.

Past years have proven the nightly late shopping hours very popular, especially for families unable to shop together during the day, and for working personnel.

Members of the Retail Merchants Committee of the Walnut Creek Area Chamber of Commerce also noted that along with the late shopping hours, several other factors point to a Merry Christmas for area shoppers.

This is the first Holiday Season since the opening of the city's Little Master Plan with its increased on-and-off-street parking, and the new streets which have provided easy access in the downtown areas.

Operation Changes Little Girl's Outlook on World

An operation in which an extra nugget of kidney and an extra fibro-muscular tube leading from that kidney were removed from a 10-year-old girl was announced today in the Children's Hospital of the East Bay's publication, "Bambino."

The child underwent a remarkable personality change after surgery, the doctors stated. When she entered the hospital she was withdrawn and unsmiling. She walked with her head down and appeared unhappy. A week after the operation, she was a happy, outgoing child.

"IT IS A DIFFICULT problem for a 10-year-old girl if she has to wear diapers," the doctors said. "One of the great satisfactions of medicine is to correct a serious physical defect and thereby help a youngster develop into a healthy, well-adjusted adult."

The child, whose name was withheld by the hospital in order to prevent her future embarrassment, was not wet just at night or during isolated periods, but constantly. She could not control urinary dribbling. The problem was not emotional and it could not be helped by discipline.

A thorough examination under anesthesia, a complete x-ray series, and laboratory tests failed to reveal the specific defect.

WHILE IT IS unusual for a urologist (a specialist in disturbances of the urinary tract) to operate without a more definite diagnosis, the surgeon and pediatrician agreed that indication of a "congenital anomaly"—or defect present from birth — seemed overwhelming. The parents, desperate for help, consented to an operation.

Three hours on the operating table changed the child's life. The doctors found a double kidney on the left side. The tissue of this double kidney was very poor, the reason that dye could not be seen on the x-ray.

About an eighth of the total kidney tissue on the left side was removed. (Double kidneys are usually found on the left; the ratio is about three or four on the left to one on the right. And the condition, while exceedingly rare, is found more often in girls than in boys.)

LOCATED, TOO, and removed, was an "ectopic ureteral orifice" —a displaced fibro-muscular tube. Normally, such a tube leaves the base of the kidney and empties into the bladder. The girl on whom this operation was performed had a normal tube leading from each kidney; she also had an extra tube leading from the top of her left kidney.

It was this extra tube that allowed water to dribble, for it did not empty into the bladder. Rather there was an imperceptible opening beyond the sphincter, the muscle that controls the opening from the bladder. So small was this opening that the surgeons were never able to pinpoint it.

Present during the operation were three surgeons, an anesthetist and two nurses.

Christian Brothers Honored For Service at St. Mary's

A total of 192 years of service to Saint Mary's College was recognized when five Christian Brothers and one lay faculty member were honored Saturday at the annual President's Christmas Banquet.

Awards of merit were presented by Brother S. Albert, F.S.C., college president, to Brother Cornelius, F.S.C. for 45 years service; Brother V. Henry, F.S.C., 37 years; Dr. Arthur S. Campbell, 32 years; Brother Bede Edward, F.S.C., 28 years; and Brother Josephus, F.S.C. and Brother Virgil, F.S.C., 25 years each.

Brother Cornelius, professor of Art, Emeritus, well known in Bay area art circles for his two books on California artist William Keith, taught at the College when it was located in Oakland and has subsequently taught in its new location in the Moraga Valley.

Brother Henry, who received his award in absentia, is professor of English, Emeritus. At the present time he is confined to Notre Dame Hospital, San Francisco. He, too, taught in Oakland at the school when it was known as the Brickpile.

Also joining the Saint Mary's College faculty at the Brickpile, Dr. Campbell moved with it to the new campus. Professor of Biology and Geology, he is well known for his work in micropaleontology and for the National Audubon Society.

Brother Bebe Edward is professor of Education, Emeritus, and director of the Placement Bureau. Countless families in Contra Costa County have hired his "boys" who, Brother Bede Edward claims, "can do anything . . . well, almost!"

The present assistant registrar of the College, Brother Josephus was postmaster at Saint Mary's for many years and is widely known across the country.

Brother Virgil, professor of English, has been hailed by alumni as one of the finest English instructors in higher education.

An innovation this year, presentation of awards of merit in recognition of 25 or more years of service to the College will become an annual affair, Brother Albert said.

THE HARD WAY

Some people, according to the National Automobile Club, always seem to do things the hard way. When a Flemish-speaking native of Belgium goes in to ask for an automobile tire he asks for a "snelbaardelooszonderspoorwegpetrolistung." And it's impolite to point!

Belts and Braces are Sure To Butter up Your Beaux

Belts and braces—or suspenders, if you insist—make colorful, handsome and practical Christmas gifts.

New closures, new buckles, new leathers and new elastics, according to the American Institute of Men's and Boys' Wear, have put belts and suspenders into the realm of top style men's wear—great gifts for a gal planning to butter up her best beau.

THE NEW TANNAGES in belt leathers range from satin-finish calkskins through fine grain moroccos and glowing cordovans, to rugged pigskins and beautifully grained alligators, lizard, and ostrich types. Many of the new buckles are highly decorative and some are embellished with enameled motifs and shields. Some of the closures are designed so that they seem to close without the aid of a fastener.

Sports belts feature bright and subdued shades in comfortable elastics, both printed and woven designs in wools, silks and braided leathers, as well as metal links and metal snake effects.

Many of the elastics, silks and wools have leather tabs at the ends to accommodate the buckle fasteners. Others have plain ends and the tongues of the buckles fasten right into the braided elastic or eyeleted fabric.

SUSPENDERS, or braces as they are called in England, are a must for wear with the higher rise trousers in order to obtain a perfect drape.

They are also a standard accessory for use with formal wear.

CHECK EXHAUST SYSTEM

Now's the time to check the exhaust system of your car, advises National Automobile Club. Wet and cold winter days ahead mean closed windows, and closed windows and leaky exhaust systems go ill together.

March of Dimes Chairmen Appointed by Stockton

Appointment of area and local March of Dimes chairmen in 20 Contra Costa communities was announced today by J. Nolan Stockton, County Chairman for the 1959 fund-raising drive, which opens January 2 and runs through February 3.

In announcing the appointments, Stockton praised the work already done by March of Dimes volunteers.

He stated, "18 new polio victims have been reported this year in Contra Costa County. There are in addition to our backlog of many rehabilitative surgery cases and others who have been under March of Dimes care for years forcing us to rely on National Headquarters for financial assistance in paying our bills.

"This situation must be rectified. Once our citizens fully recognize March of Dimes needs, I know they will respond and make their county chapter self-sustaining."

In addition to continuing the polio program, the 1959 March of Dimes will wage war on arthritis and birth defects, with the national goal set at $65,000,000.

In the central area Joseph DeRosa, Postmaster of Concord, will spearhead these communities and their chairmen: Pleasant Hill, Ben Hartinger; Moraga-Canyon, Al Baitx; Lafayette, Larry Blakesley.

THERMAL

Thermal, located below sea level in Riverside County, is a shipping point for products of the Coachella Valley.

BIGGEST KILLER

Motor vehicle accidents are still the biggest single killer of children from one to fourteen years of age.

To Show or to Blow Pops Up as Handkerchief Quiz

To show or to blow? This is the question and men's handkerchief manufacturers have answered it in the best possible way by creating a dual-purpose accessory that satisfies either purpose.

The dual purpose supply for Fall '58, reports the American Institute of Men's and Boys' Wear, includes linens, voiles, end-on-ends, and fine cottons.

Among the latest in these are squares carrying printed designs in paisley-type patterns and the classic foulard-type neat prints over the entire surface of the handkerchief. These rate high with the "Ivy" set who prefer them in the larger sizes both as pocket kerchiefs and used as a scarf inside an open-coller sports shirt.

Corded, striped and patterned borders, initials and motifs are made to wear either in the square TV fold or the casual tucked-in point style.

The handkerchiefs used "for show only" are colorful foulard silk squares with beautiful colors and designs. These may be used with both sports and dressy outfits and are more popular than ever in either bold or subdued shades. They can be had in larger squares to be worn with sports shirts knotted loosely about the neck It's a neat way to finish off an open collar, and may be worn indoor or outdoor.

Safeway Doubles Monthly Sales

For the third successive month, Safeway's rate of sales gain over 1957 was more than double the food company's earlier 1958 sales pace.

Safeway reported today that sales for the four weeks ended November 29 were 8.28 per cent ahead of the same period a year ago and amounted to $176,331,839.

This compares to $162,845,060 for the same four weeks of 1957.

The company's rate of sales gain for the past 12 weeks reported has run 8 per cent ahead of last year. This more than doubles the 3.8 per cent rate of sales increase reported by Safeway during the first 36 weeks of 1958.

Safeway sales on a fully consolidated basis for the 48 weeks of 1958, also ended November 29, amounted to $2,043,919,352 as compared to $1,948,042,432 for the same period of 1957.

There were 2,111 Safeway stores in operation as of November 29, 1958 as compared to 2,024 a year earlier.

The Small Boat Owner's Dilemma--Harbor Space

The small boating enthusiast in Contra Costa faces a dilemma. He is surrounded by some of the most beautiful and scenic cruising waters in the world, and he can't get his boat off dry land.

To say that it is frustrating to have the facilities and the equipment at hand, and then to be stymied for lack of a simple launching ramp or berthing facility, is indeed an understatement.

THERE IS HOPE on the horizon. Martinez has been promised a $1.5 million state loan for construction of a waterfront marina—but this is subject to approval by the state legislature next month.

It seems likely that Martinez will get the funds. The city has already been given up to $10,000 for planning the harbor. If it gets the construction funds, it will represent a good portion of the $14 million-plus fund the state has set aside for small boat harbor construction.

How acute is the need for this type of harbor? Well, many boat owners line up for as long as three hours to get a shot at the launching ramp—just so they can get their pleasure boat in the water after hauling it for miles on their own equipment-boat trailer and hitch.

FREQUENTLY this wait represents the third or fourth launching ramp he has tried, too, after driving for miles past even more crowded facilities.

If he wants to rent a berth for his boat he may have to wait as long as a year. The county's 46-privately-owned harbors can berth some 2000 vessels, but a survey this fall indicated another 900 berths could be rented, if built, at Martinez alone.

Meanwhile the small boat boom continues unabated, which only increases the problem.

More than 9000 boats are registered with the county assessors office, and this number is increasing daily.

What is "in the works" to help alleviate the problem? First, and farthest along, is the Martinez marina, which includes a proposed 1000 boat harbor and waterfront park, six to eight launching ramps and related facilities.

Meanwhile individual harbor owners and operators are busily increasing facilities. As one summed it up:

"If you've got a harbor, business isn't just booming, you're swamped."

Old Clothing, Household Items Sought by 'Army'

Old clothing and household items that are being cleared out of closets and cupboards to make room for Christmas gifts are being sought by The Salvation Army.

Reservations for Red Shield truck pickup services may be made by telephoning the Chamber of Commerce, YEllowstone 4-2000.

Worn items of all kinds can be put to service by The Salvation Army, according to Brigadier George E. Bree, the officer in charge of The Salvation Army Men's Social Service Center in Oakland.

"Homeless and handicapped men enrolled in the center's rehabilitation program keep their minds off their troubles and sharpen their skills by reconditioning discards," Bree said.

The service center, where the men are housed and fed, is supported by the sale of reconditioned discards to low-income families through Salvation Army Thrift Stores.
